Fuel Charge Overview

- The fuel charge was introduced as part of the Federal Carbon Pollution Pricing System, enacted through the Greenhouse Gas Pollution Pricing Act (the Act), which received Royal Assent on June 21, 2018
- Administered by the Excise Duties and Taxes Division of the CRA

Fuel Charge Overview

- The fuel charge currently applies in the provinces and territories of Ontario, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Nunavut, Saskatchewan, and Yukon
- This past August the Federal Government made regulations that apply the federal pollution pricing fuel charge in Alberta effective January 1, 2020
- Known as listed provinces

Fuel Charge Overview

- Applies to 21 types of fuel and to combustible waste
- In most cases, the charge applies early in the supply chain
- A registered distributor that delivers a specific type of fuel in a listed province must generally pay the charge for that fuel, unless the registered distributor delivers the fuel to a person that is exempt

- Registration is either required or permitted, depending on your business activities in a listed province.
- You may be required to register if your business activities include distributing, wholesaling, producing, using, delivering, importing or exporting one of the fuels covered by the Act, or burning combustible waste, such as asphalt shingles or tires, in a listed province.
- One or more registration types may be applicable to a person in respect of different types of fuel.

 The Greenhouse Gas Pollution Pricing Act provides for the following 12 types of registration:

Distributor	Specified air carrier
> Importer	Marine carrier
> Emitter	Specified marine carrier
➤ User of Fuel	Rail carrier
User of combustible waste	Specified rail carrier
Air Carrier	Road carrier

- If you are currently not registered under the fuel charge and you have business activities in Alberta, and your registration is mandatory, you must apply for registration before January 1, 2020. If your registration is permitted, you may register at any time.
- If you are already registered as a type, other than as an emitter, for the fuel charge, you will not need to register again for those same business activities in Alberta. Once a return and related schedule is reported showing an amount owing for a type of fuel, Alberta will be added to your profile.
- Joint Ventures same as GST

Registration – Why?

- Registration generally allows a distributor to:
  - Accept delivery of fuel on a charge out basis if accompanied by an exemption certificate
  - Deliver fuel on a charge-out basis if delivered and an exemption certificate applies
  - Deliver that type of fuel on a charge-out basis in a listed province if the fuel is designated as ships' stores for use on board a conveyance of a class prescribed under the Ships' Stores Regulations
- A registered distributor is not required to file separately for these activities:
  - Fuel that is imported or brought into a listed province
- A registered distributor is not required to pay a charge on inventory held as a distributor.

Mandatory Registration

Under subsection 55(1), a person is required to be registered as a distributor in respect of both marketable natural gas (MNG) and non-marketable natural gas (NMNG) under certain conditions.

A person that produces a fuel, other than MNG or NMNG.

Voluntary Registration

Subsection 55(3) provides that a person that is not required under subsection 55(1) to be registered as a distributor in respect of a type of fuel (other than MNG or NMNG) may apply to be registered as a distributor in respect of that type of fuel.

Distributor -Voluntary

- Carry on the business of selling, delivering or distributing fuel and, in the ordinary course of business, delivers that fuel in a listed province to:
  - Another person that resells the fuel in the ordinary course of business
  - A registered distributor
  - A farmer or fisher
  - A registered specified air, rail or marine carrier
  - A registered emitter
  - A registered user
  - To another person if, the fuel is designated as ships' stores
  - A greenhouse operator
  - A remote power plant operator
- Carry on the business of selling, delivering or distributing fuel and, in the ordinary course of business, removes fuel of that type from a listed province

Treatment of the fuel charge

As a registered distributor, fuel is generally held without the charge being payable until

- the fuel is either used by the registered distributor in a listed province;
- transferred into a supply tank of a vehicle of the registered distributor, unless, also registered as an emitter and the transfer is at that facility; or
- delivered by the registered distributor to a person that does not provide an exemption certificate.

Filing and reporting

The reporting period of a registered distributor is a calendar month. A registered distributor must file a return monthly with the CRA, even if there is no amount owing. The return must be filed by the end of the month following the reporting period.

Forms to complete

The quantity of fuel subject to a charge must be reported by type of fuel and listed province. A registered distributor must file Form B400, Fuel Charge Return – Registrant, for each reporting period, for each registration type, as well as Form B400-1, Fuel Charge Return Schedule – Registered Distributor

Exemption certificates

An exemption certificate is a document that applies to the delivery of fuel and is provided by certain persons (see below) to a registered distributor to enable the registered distributor to deliver fuel in a listed province without the application of the charge at that time of delivery.

- Another registered as a distributor, a specified air carrier, a specified marine carrier or a specified rail carrier.
- A registered as an emitter and that fuel is for use at its covered facility.
- A farmer, and a fisher if certain conditions are met.
- A remote power planet operator that generates electricity for remote communities.
- Partial (80%) relief to a greenhouse operators.

Natural Gas

- Fuel Charge Notice (FCN11) Canada Revenue Agency's administrative position regarding the application of the Greenhouse Gas Pollution Pricing Act to the delivery of marketable natural gas and non-marketable natural gas through a pipeline in a listed province.
- Consider "delivery" of natural gas distributed through a pipeline to only include the physical delivery of natural gas through a pipeline.
- Does not impact other fuels

Natural Gas

- The following persons are not considered to physically deliver the natural gas:
  - persons who do not physically deliver natural gas, such as traders or marketers;
  - persons who never take physical possession of the natural gas for use and/or never remove it from a pipeline; or
  - natural gas users who purchase natural gas and contract separately for the physical delivery of the fuel to their own facilities.

- Under subsection 57(1), a person may apply for registration as an emitter provided they have been issued a statement under the Fuel Charge Regulations.
- A registered emitter can accept delivery of fuel without a charge being payable, at that time, when the registered emitter provides an exemption certificate to the registered distributor that delivers the fuel.
- A person responsible for a covered facility, and producing fuel on the covered facility, must register as an emitter as well as a distributor.

Emitter

Filing and reporting

The reporting period of a registered emitter is a calendar month. A registered emitter must file a return monthly with the CRA, even if there is no amount owing. The return must be filed by the end of the month following the reporting period.

The registered emitter must report and pay a fuel charge for fuel diverted from covered facility.

Forms to complete

The quantity of fuel subject to a charge must be reported by type of fuel and listed province. A registered emitter must file Form B400, Fuel Charge Return – Registrant, for each reporting period, as well as Form B400-3, Fuel Charge Return Schedule – Registered Emitter

Emitter

- Two parts to the Return Schedule
- Additions:
  - Fuel imported or brought into a listed province
  - Fuel diverted away from the covered facility for a use that is subject to the charge
- Reductions
  - Fuel removed from the listed province
  - Fuel brought to its covered facility

Distributor - Multiple Registration

- A distributor who is also a registered emitter
  - Must file a separate return for registered emitter
  - Must also pay any charge liability separately
  - Monthly filing requirements
  - File "nil" return if no amount payable
- A registered distributor, who is also registered as an emitter will be required to file Form B400, Fuel Charge Return – Registrant, for each reporting period, for each registration type, as well as Form B400-1, Fuel Charge Return Schedule – Registered Distributor AND Form B400-3, Fuel Charge Return Schedule – Registered Emitter
